GREETINGS

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to our annual convention on behalf of the Washington Chapter. Every year we look forward to this occasion to meet our friends, exchange ideas, think and discuss about the wellbeing of the society, its members and above all, to have a good time.

We, the members of the Washington Chapter, have worked very hard to make your visit productive, enjoyable and relaxing. We have paid special attention to the activities of the children and our young adults. In the event there are any shortcomings, they are entirely unintentional. As you know, the cost of holding conventions has been going up in recent years. However, we have tried our best to hold the cost down to the minimum without compromising your comfort, convenience and activities.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Mr. Arun Das, a former member of our society, now living in New Delhi, India for designing the graphics of the cover page of this brochure and the logo for our society. My special thanks to all the sponsors of this brochure for making its publication possible.
